2021

Will you not miss college?

The hectic and uncomfortable rides through some of the busiest and most congested roads of Kolkata. Your speedy legs carrying you umpteen times between the old and the new campus all day long. The lectures, the bunks, the smokes, the roadside food, the playground, the lawn, the library and absolutely everything else. The day would end- you would walk to the bus-stop with your friends after enjoying the sunset and ofcourse, the mandatory cup of tea from Shankar da's stall. Your tiresome journey back home and the weird urge to relive the same day over again the next day.

Therefore, as you turn from students to alumni of RCCIIT, we, your juniors, invite you to attend a small event that we organised, to give you one last bash of college-life. And let's not call it a "farewell", 'cause we believe more in "see you soon"s.
